Promoting Additive manufacturing and business matching in the manufacturing field.

The additive manufacturing specialized exhibition will be held firstly on June 2024 in Nagoya. The exhibition aims promoting the spread of using 3D-related technologies, the user case of AM (Additive manufacturing) and business matching within Japanese manufacturing field.

Also, this exhibition will approach the traditional manufacturing field by the progress on metal/plastic 3D printing & AM technology as a new manufacturing proposition, which make it possible to manufacture high-value-added parts by utilizing AM technology, and the evolution of these technologies.

Greeting from Japan Society of Additive Manufacturing, Organizer

Amid the major trends of the Industry 4.0 such as AI, big data, IoT and robotization, the "Digitalization of Manufacturing" including AM technology is rapidly accelerating in the world.

AM is the next-generation technology that is still developing. It is not just a device, but it's evolving into a new manufacturing process that is linked to various technologies.

Japanese Society of Additive Manufacturing aims to support the creation of "New Manufacturing Innovations by AM" through industry-academia-government collaboration, including domestic and overseas 3D-related companies, the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry and related research institutions.
